Dear Members of the Class of 2012,

Graduation Day is finally here! What an exciting time for you with graduation, your prom, and all of the senior activities that you will participate in. It is a time to celebrate your successes and share many happy memories with your friends and classmates.

I am sure in some ways it felt like this day would never come and yet it in other ways, it is happening too fast. You are moving on to another big phase in your lives and that can be scary and exciting all at the same time. Graduation is a time to reflect back on your years at Arlington High School. You have learned and experienced so much in your classrooms and outside of them, and have matured into capable and accomplished young men and women. You have endured challenges, difficult moments, and some sad events as well. I hope you see these as learning opportunities, for with every challenge and difficult moment we survive, it makes us stronger, smarter, and better equipped to handle the next challenges in life.

I want to let you know that it has been a privilege to have been a teacher to some of you, an Assistant Principal, and now your Interim Principal. I could not be prouder of you and how much you have accomplished in these past four years. I have witnessed so many of your successes academically, athletically, and through our Performing and Visual Arts Programs and extra-curricular activities. I have seen so many of you engaged in meaningful community service activities, not because you needed the hours, but because you cared and wanted to make a difference in the lives of others. I have watched many of you emerge as leaders in so many ways. You are a great class and I can't wait to see what you accomplish in your future lives.

I would like to thank each of you for all you have contributed to Arlington High School. I wish you the best in all you do in your future careers and personal lives.

Congratulations to the Class of 2012!

Sincerely,

Mary Villano

Maybe you don't have to squint and shield your eyes — and search for the meaning of life out in the distance.

Maybe it's right in front of you,
and each time you see it
you let it slip through your fingers like quick sand.

Maybe you can find it in the smallest things.
Like a smile, or a tear, or a simple nod of the head, demonstrating understanding, saying
'I know what you mean,'
because that's all we want to hear.

— Gracie James, 2009

And each road leads you to where you want to go.
And if you're faced with the choice and you have to choose,
I hope you choose the one that means the most to you.l

I hope you keep[on walking 'til you find the window.

Joshua Peter Torres

2012

Our Boy...The only man child in the sea of girls that was the Torres family before you came along. They didn't allow the Dahli Llama"s feet to touch the ground for that first year but you still learned to walk. You were not allowed to speak a full word because they knew what you wanted by your first grunt but you learned how to talk and even grew a nice vocabulary. After the pampering they decided to show you who were the real bosses of the house. You were squashed and beaten until you finally emerged into a fine young man who knows the value and power of the female spirit. It took a village to raise our little boy into the wonderful young man who is graduating soon and then heading off to college. To say that we are proud of you would be a complete understatement. There are not words to express how much we admire, support, adore, and love you . We are excited to see you head into the next chapter of your life with all the gusto and excitement you bring to everything. We have always known that you were made for great things. Just remember with great power comes great responsibility. You are the best the Torres family has to offer this planet. GO LIGHT YOUR WORLD!! We love you

Human progress is neither automatic nor inevitable. Every step toward the goal of justice requires sacrifice, suffering, and struggle; the tireless exertions and passionate concern of dedicated individuals

The June sun shall be hard on the past

Today is full of the joy of light,

And tomorrow is already warm on our faces.

But even on that final day

As you close the door to the past behind you and greet the waiting sun,

The past awaits your return,

So we have left a window open,

for you.....
